Biography

Paul Hamid Werder has been a successful consultant in organizational change and leadership for twenty-five years.

Mr. Werder is president of LionHeart Consulting, Inc., and a faculty member at the University of Spiritual Healing & Sufism. He has merged his traditional business acumen with spiritual healing skills to empower leaders to work from the prophetic light that he refers to as inner wisdom.

Mr. Werder is author of two books, Building Unity: Experiencing Love, Peace and Wisdom in Business and Daily Life, and Mastering Effectiveness.

He supports students to discover their unique God-given talents and express them completely with deep humility. The ultimate result of students' contribution to humanity is their ability to align their clients with the light of God while standing up to the darkness in the world.

Topics

For the Love of God Who do I Work for in a Turbulent World?

The world is going through an unpredictable period of disruption towards a new economy. Real security doesn't come from a company or a job. We need to become stronger on the inside. This occurs best by deeper/stronger alignment to God as our source of what truly is meaningful.

These People at Work are Driving Me Crazy, How in God's Name do I Survive this Insanity?

When we say others are our problem we are disempowering ourselves. It's not what occurs to us, it's how we respond or react that causes us to suffer. The best medicine is to build inner strength and access our wisdom through remembrance of God's name.

I Have Everything I Ever Dreamed of and I Still Feel Awful!

The American dream is not enough. Research tells us that after we have our basic needs met, more money doesn't make us happier. Our economy and environment are heading for a disruption so we must learn to live with less stuff. We can find more fulfilment in relationship building than a life of over working for the sake of excessive acquisition.
